CENTRAL PARK.

The Thirteenth Annual Report of the Board The Thirteenth Annual Report of the Board of Commissioners of the Central Park, for the year ending December 31, 1869, has just been published. It is a book of nearly 300 pages, and abounding in fine photographic and lithegraphic illustrations, making, altogether, one of the most interesting documents ever submitted to the people of this metropolis. The following

Of the condition, growth, promise, financial status, and other details of interest in connection with this great public work, the one which, above all others, the clitzens of New York, and indeed of the whole country, view with complacent pride, the Commissioners have rendered an able and elaborate report. It is but just to the Commissible and elaborate report. It is but just to the Commissioners to say, in view of the whole work as presented by shoners to say, in view of the whole work as presented by shoners to say, in view of the whole work as presented by shoners to say, in view of the whole work as presented by able and them, that all that could be accomplished by able and them, that all that could be accomplished by able and them, that all that could be accomplished by able and them, that all that could be accomplished by able and them, that all that could be accomplished by able and them, that all that could be accomplished by able and them, that all that could be accomplished by able and bare status of the Park, and by which they have been readily made to employ the highest practical skill in every department, has been done; that with wisdom and thoughfulness and the utmost patience in carrying out details, great and little, they have made the Park a noble and charming pleasure ground, which, in lavish profusion of ornamentation and attractive features of every sort, while inferior to nobe in spaciousness, has, under their management, outgrown almost all rivalry, and made it the peer of any grown almost all rivalry, and made it the peer of any grown almost all rivalry, and made it the peer of the tall rivalry, and made it the peer of any-Old, as well as one of the wonders of the New World.

The forces at the disposal of the Commissioners have during the past year been employed in the development of the Park, according to plans heretofore adopted, and in making plans for future operations. The Belvidere, occupying the high ground of a central point, has been so perfected and improved as to afford a prominent place of look-out over the whole extent of the Park, and at the same time to present in itself varied, picturesque, and attractive features as viewed from different parts of the grounds. The massive foundations of the Merchants Gaic have been completed, and the drives and walks that lead thereto have been readjusted. The house, situated just north of the play ground south of Transverse Road No. 1, is complete, and is much used by the boys for whose convenience. The southerly gates of the Park. The centrace has been inid out with encaustic tiles day. The laying out, fortilizing, and planting or Labyrinth on the east of the Old Reserva completed. This comprises within its infect of gravel-walk, and 2,250 trees as bornes to the walk, and these are intended to house crected, several years since, near the of the Lake, having been put up and taken the successive years, has, by reason of use, ich worn, that it was necessary to supply one more commodious and readily movable no after the time has passed during which it paired. The building presents on the Lake a rece stories, the lower one being used for re-s and clock and skate rooms, the intermediate

Suddenly most glaring errors marked their play, until victory was almost assured for their opponents, and then the fine play of the previous innings was resumed. The score is appended.

preserving, and such special opportunity for study and examination to persons interested in each department as may be desirable for its advance and growth. The Legislature of the State, at its last session, authorized the Board "to erect, establish, conduct, and maintain on the Central Park a Meteorelogical and Astronomical Observatory, and a Museum of Natural History and a Gallery of Art, and the buildings therefor, and to provide the necessary instruments, furniture, and equipments for the same." At a previous session, the Commissioners of the Park were authorized to receive "any gifts, devises, or bequests that may be made to said Board, upon such trusts and conditions as may be prescribed by the donors or grantors thereof, and agreed to by said Board." In furtherance of this plan, a number of public-spirited gentlemen took measures to obtain, by private contribution, sufficient mance, to purchase a large collection illustrative of natural history, to be deposited in the Park Museum. The undertaking having been favorably received and responded to by considerable subscriptions, the promoters of it organized themselves as the American Museum of Natural History, procured a charter from the Legislature, and, it is understood, have airendy collected about the sum of Mo,000 for the purpose of its organization. The Museum

Prof. B. Waterhouse Hawkins has been engaged in ad Prof. B. Waterhouse Hawkins has been engaged in advancing the group of fossil animals, niluded to in the last Annual Report. A very wide interest, both in this rountry and in Europe, has been excited among scientific men by this interesting and novel undertaking. The proceedings of the Commissioners of the Park in this matter have been commended by scientific journals both at home and abroad. The Commissioners especially arge that greater care be taken for the preservation of fossil and other remains, where they are found in the course of excavation—a stroke of the pick or scoop of the shovel often irrecoverably destroying fragments that might serve to establish or refute received ideas as to the bast eras of the globe.

might serve to establish or refute received ideas as to the past eras of the globe.

The great group of ancient animals formerly living during the secondary geological epoch on the continent of America, modeled and restored to the natural size and appearance of the animal as in the, by Mr. Hawkins, for the Central Park consists of the gigantic Hadrossamus of the exact dimensions (one 26 feet, the other 39 feet long), as proved by the fossils described by Dr. Joseph Leidy in the "Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge, No. 192" also models of "Lacalap's Aquitungus" fossils, described by Cope, together with the inquatic "Elasmosarus and Mossarus." The second division of the group will illustrate the post-terdary period, and represents the Mastodon, the Mammoth, Megatherium, Megalonyx, Glyptodon, etc., etc., thus infining the early periods of animal life with the carliest evidence of man's existence, and so constituting a complete visual history of the 4 merican continent from the dawn of creation to the present time. The Zöological Gardens are also in a forward state. These will be constructed for the exhibition of polar bears, the walrus, scals, sea hous, etc., specimens of echecous, and also for the aquatic rodents, such as capylare, beaver, etc., the tropical carnivora, and other classes of anima s.

The Meteorological Observatory, authorized by the Legislature, has, during the last year, attained a degree of excellence that probably is not surpussed by any institution of the character in the country. The elimactic conditions are noted by self-registering instruments invented and constructed by Mr. Daniel Draper. The registrations are those of the thermometer—wet and dry jouilb—and barometer, by the photographic process; of the force, velocity, and direction of the wind, and the rain-fall by automatic nachinery. Thus the weather sach day leaves, by its own action, an enduring picture of itself, complete and accurate, presenting a marked contrast to the ordinary methods of weather observation. The records of th eras of the globe. e great group of ancient animals formerly living

The Commissioners have instituted a series of experi-ments as to the best kinds of errect pavenest, and the best mode of sprinkling streets, including the use of cer-tain salts with water. Important results are ex-pected to be derived from this source; but care is taken to avoid the use of any of the agencies of the Board for the purpose of advertising any particular scheme. Further topics of interest, which are treated in the report, age the supply of vehicles of various descriptions for the conveyance of persons wishing to view it, through the Park; the lakes, boat-riding, skating, musical entertainments, base-ball, and other play-grounds, and the Children's Department of the Park.

Marshal Hart, last week, granted 649 licenses and received $1,132. Mr. G. D. Cardozo, the Chief of the Ordinance Bureau, reports having received in the same time 184 complaints, 48 of which were settled, and 136 time 18s complaints, 48 of which were referred to the various departments. Superintendent James Donahue of the Free Labor Bureau reports that last week the number of men who applied for employment was 294; women, 951; men required, 174; women, 1,071; situations were procured for 158 men and 208 women; total number of situations procured, 1,063.

On Saturday afternoon the beautiful copper plates, 350 in number and weighing 3,369 pounds, from which was printed "Audubon's Birds of America," were to be sold to the highest bidder, in Clinton Hall, under to be sold to the highest bidder, in Clinton Hall, under the superintendence of Mr. Punnam, the publisher. The sale was to be wholly for the benefit of Audubon's widow, who is over eighty years of age, and resides in Louisville, Ky., and is dependent on a daughter for support. The plates were engraved in London in 1832 and 1833, and cost $20,000. The original drawings have just been deposited with the Historical Society in this city; $3,000 was subscribed by several wealthy persons in New-York to keep them here. Just as Mr. Putnam was about to put up the plates he was requested by one of the members of the Board of Education to postpone the sale until it could be decided whether the Board would buy them.

On Saturday night William Briggs went into the restaurant of Peter Carroll, No. 804 Second-ave., and He was then asked to pay, when he immediately seized a table kuir and stabbed Mr. Carroll in the breast and sides. Mr. Carroll's wounds are serious. Briggs was committed by Justice Bixby in the Yorkville Police Court without bail. asked for some refreshments, which were supplied him.

Mr. H. C. Lewis made affidavit to Marshal Hart, at the Mayor's office, on Saturday, that a man whose name is not known to him had induced him to buy a pawn ticket for $40, which, he said, represented a pawn ticket for $40, which, he said, represented a watch worth $75. Mr. Lewis said that, previous to paying over the money, he had visited Mr. James Lynn, the pawnbroker, who told him that the watch was worth fully $75, and that he would willingly loan $40 upon it. The watch proved to be worthless, and upon asking Mr. Lynn for a loan, the pawnbroker said that he could not allow him more than $5. Marshal Hart decided that Mr. Lynn should loan Mr. Lewis the amount stipulated or surrender his license.

ville, an old landmark, was destroyed by fire about mid-night on Friday. Loss about $1,000; uninsured....About $1,000 to Vesterday afternoon, a fire broke out in one of the Eric Railway shops at the Long Dock Depot, Jersey City. The lower part of the building was occupied as a finishing shop for small from work, the upper part as a carpenter shop. The place was entirely destroyed, the flames having spread very rapidly owing to the fact that on the first floor there were stored 15 barrels of machine oil. The loss is about $1,500; covered by insurance.
